

This is a mummified frog that I found in the woods.

Can you see how long it's legs are, to help them jump a long way.

Can you see his feet?

Do frog's feet have a special name?

This is a pipistrelle bat found in a school loft. It still has soft fur!

Have a look at his tiny feet.

This bat is about 5cm long. Which part can't you see very much of?

Here is another mummified animal.

This is a dog fish I found on the beach in Broadstairs.

Have a look inside his mouth. Did you know fish had teeth?

A cricket

Look at the powerful back legs so it can hop.

Here you can see the leg joints and the amazing scales on it's wings.

Finally, another fish.

I think this is called a mud skipper.

I found it in Deal.

Maybe you could investigate and check if I am right!
