

School children should learn about different religions.

We should make sure that people of different religious beliefs are included.

People should only wear religious clothing at home or their place of worship.

Religions should not criticise people with different beliefs.

We should avoid discussing religious differences of opinion.

People's religious beliefs should be kept private.

We should have laws that protect everyone, no matter what their beliefs.

We should celebrate more religious festivals and celebrations.

Everyone should be treated exactly the same, whatever their religious beliefs.

Personal freedom is more important than religious beliefs.
